Leadership Coaching
Leadership can be a lonely position if everyone expects you to have all of the answers. Great leaders make sure they have a "critical friend" - someone supportive, non-judgemental and independent - to talk to about themselves, their team and their business in complete confidence.

ABOUT THIS MODULE
This module consists of three, hour-long, one-to-one leadership coaching sessions. Select your coach from our professionally qualified coaching faculty. Using insight from your Hogan Leadership Psychometric assessment, you will work on the areas most important to your personal development as a leader.

WHO IS IT FOR?
This module is essential for leaders and managers who have been recently promoted, or are taking on greater responsibility, or who have found themselves facing a major obstacle they must overcome.

HOW WILL YOU BENEFIT?
By the end of the session you will be able to:
- Become more self-aware as a leader, with greater self-knowledge
- Be clearer on the strengths of your leadership
- Have a deeper understanding of any obstacles holding you back
- Create different strategies to develop strengths and mitigate weaknesses
- Build your ability to lead with even greater confidence.
